

Jaz Dhami

Bringing an innovative breath of fresh air into Bhangra genre, Jaz Dhami is a fresh new talent who is set to take the Bhangra industry by storm. Birmingham born Jaz has music practically running through his veins - his father was part of a successful Midlands Bhangra band in the 80's, and Jaz is following in his fathers footsteps. His unique sound is a mixture of authentic eastern and modern western musical flavours, which has brought him recognition as 'Best Newcomer' at the Asian Music Awards earlier this year
