

Nachda Sansaar

Nachda Sansaar are a group of Punjabi Folk Dancers based in Birmingham (U.K.). Since 1984 they have excelled themselves and spearheaded a campaign to keep the art of traditional Bhangra dancing alive. They choreograph a contemporary routine using traditional Bhangra moves, with a western flavour. 'Bhangra Freestyle' was born and the youth of yesteryear were spellbound by the combination of traditional costumes, modern music and fusion dance. The group named themselves Nachda Sansaar - Literally translated, this means 'Dancing World'. They performed various Freestyle routines over the following years at many community and charity events.
